

HEAVY DAMAGES ARE ASKED OF RAILROAD

Nellie Flacks Wants $25,000 for Injuries Received Under Michigan Street Gates.

Nellie Flack filed suit for $25,000 damages against the L. S. & M. S. railway co., in the superior court Tuesday for injuries received on Oct. 2, 1912 when she was struck by the guard gate at Bronson and South Michigan streets. The accident is alleged to have taken place in the evening and to have been due to the negligence of the gate-man who, the plaintiff maintains, failed to sound the warning bell, giving notice of an approaching train. According to the complaint the plaintiff was confined to her bed for one year and was compelled to pay $3,000 as a physician's bill. The demand of $25,000 is made in restitution for the injuries which it is stated will be permanent.

STACHY IS ACCUSED OF CARL TAKAS STABBING

Heads Not Guilty When Arraigned for Assault With Intent to Kill in City Court.

Louis Stachy of the west side, accused of assault and battery with intent to kill on Carl Takas, 1801 S. William st., was arraigned in city court Tuesday morning and pleaded not guilty to the charge. After being placed under bond of $300 the case was continued until Sept. 30, pending the result of injuries inflicted upon Takas, who is in Epworth hospital with a wound in his abdomen. Stachy was arrested Sunday night when Takas was found on Prairie av., near Oliver field, seriously wounded. John Mazalera, 825 S. Chapin st., was also arrested at the time, although he claimed to be a state witness. Stachy's face was kicked to a pulp by the two men he is alleged to have assaulted.

Mrs. Silvey Bergl Is Witness Against Otis Sprout in City Court, Charging Serious Offense.

Accused of a statutory crime by Mrs. Silvey Bergl, 21 years old, 314 N. Kaley st., Otis Sprout, a Mishawaka chauffeur, was arraigned in city court Tuesday morning and pleaded not guilty to the charges. Sprout, according to the story told by the woman to the police authorities, met Mrs. Bergl on the bridge Monday afternoon. He was in his automobile and asked the girl to take a ride with him. She accepted and Sprout drove into the country, refusing to allow the girl to step from the car, she alleges. Sprout will be tried in city court Saturday morning. His bond has been fixed at $500.

WORKS BOARD RECEIVES BIDS FOR IMPROVEMENTS

Has Big Schedule for Consideration at Tuesday Night Meeting—Sewer Petition Filed.

Bids for the pavement of Johnson st. and for the construction of a curb and walk on the south side of Fox st. were opened at the regular Tuesday morning meeting of the board of public works. They were turned over to the city engineers for tabulation and will be allowed at the meeting tonight. The board also allowed the contract for the pavement of Cottage Grove av. to the Rankert & Eggleston firm. The avenue will be paved with sheet asphalt from Lincoln way west to Portage av. Work upon this will be started at once.

The following will be the chief objects of discussion: Trunk sewer on High st.; pipe sewer on Fellows st.; pavement on Cottage Grove av.; pipe sewer on Virginia st.; deferred hearing for pipe sewer on Milton av.; proposed vacation of a part of William st.; assessment roll for pavement on Cedar st.; assessment roll for sidewalk on Pennsylvania av.

The ordinance prepared by the city council is up for the second time at tonight's meeting.

An ordinance regulating plumbing in the residence portions of the city will also come up for consideration. The ordinance suggested regulates the size of pipe and the method by which it may be installed in South Bend residence. WOULD LIFT BAN ON BEER PARTIES DURING CAMPAIGN torney received his appointment; and, William Happ, chairman of the citizens' committee, were emphatic in construing such meetings, if held, as in violation of the corrupt practices act, and disclaimed all responsibility for such meetings—which actually were held, despite their denials, though perhaps without their instigation or advance knowledge.

And it is reported, though this is hearsay, that the same workers who were in direct charge of the beer meetings then are back at the old trick now, this time under the auspices of the republicans, or, at least, in the furtherance of the republican program. Whether this construction of the corrupt practice law had already been discovered by the republicans in the citizens' movement a year ago, and certain of their members, aligned with the citizens, were willing to take the chance in the hope of overthrowing the democrats and getting something of a foothold, is not definitely known. It is true that the same workers who put on the beer meetings then are again at it now, the situation looks suspicious.

Cracks at Bull Moose. City Atty. Stachy takes the position that the affair at the Oliver was no different than the progressive banquet at the Y. M. C. A. last April. W. E. Miller, bull moose candidate for superior court judge, points out that there was no campaign on at the time of the progressive dinner; that no candidates had been nominated either for state, congressional or county offices, and that the tickets were sold while even though a few might have been given away, no one could have been invited to "come and meet our Mr. So-and-So, candidate for senator, or Mr. Thus-and-So, candidate for congress."

"Besides," says he, "it was more than six months previous to the election next November, and I even those who gave away tickets could not be construed as seeking to induce anyone to vote for anyone in particular."

The argument is becoming acute, as between the republicans and progressives, the latter of whom declare that if the former persist in following the course upon which they have started, they may see that it gets into the courts for a more judicial construction than that of a city attorney.

It developed Tuesday that the Oliver dinner was really the convivance of F. A. Miller, editor of the Tribune, and is said not to have been the working of the county committee at all. It is claimed that when Mr. Miller learned that Candidate Hugh H. Miller was coming to South Bend, he took it upon himself to arrange for the reception and luncheon, and that it was he who named the reception committee. It was he who included Mr. Hickey in the program. He put it up to other republicans to buy a certain number of tickets for sale—supposedly for sale.

Ban On Individual. "If they choose to give them away, that was their business," the republican who tells of Mr. Miller being back of the dinner declares, but he seems to forget that the law states that "no person shall contribute directly or indirectly to any political campaign, or to the campaign of any candidate, within six months previous to an election or primary, except to a regularly authorized treasurer or sub-treasurer of a political committee, or a political agent," who shall keep an account of such contributions and include it in his campaign report of receipts and expenditures filed with the county clerk. The sum of the tickets given away is positively known.

"The democrats have supposed right along that the construction of the corrupt practices act was settled," says Rudolph Ackermann. "Under the construction placed upon it two years ago by Democratic Chairman Zinky, Progressive Chairman Guy and Republican Chairman Elliott, all beer meetings, distributions of cigars, etc., for campaign good-fellowship, or otherwise, were under the ban, and that was the rule in the city campaign. I have had no reason to suspect that the rule would be changed."

Neither the democratic chairman, nor Progressive Chairman Hunsberger appear inclined to accept the city attorney's view as final.

Changes are being planned for the South Shore lines. The 11 o'clock car in the evening will be taken off. Other times will be slightly changed, however, a car will run approximately every hour and a half.

POSING AS OFFICERS BREAK INTO RESIDENCE

Arthur Oleson and Two Companions Face Serious Charge in City Court.

Posing as detectives, Arthur Oleson, 1221 S. Franklin st., and two other men are said to have forced an entrance into the home of Solomon Bates, 902 S. Lafayette st., claiming that they thought the place was a house of ill fame. When Bates and his sister, Mrs. Theresa Horvath, attempted to resist, both were attacked by the men and beaten, it is alleged. Oleson is charged with having struck Mrs. Horvath across the face with his fist.

According to Bates' charges, Oleson led the party. After knocking at the door, he pushed it wide open when Bates appeared. "Cassidy," meaning Detective Cassidy of the local department, "is outside," he alleged. He shouldered his way into the room closely followed by the other two men, whose names have not been learned by the police department. Oleson refuses to divulge their identity.

When arraigned in city court Tuesday morning Oleson, who was captured at his home by Detectives Cassidy and Lane and Dwyer, pleaded not guilty to charges of assault and battery and the case was continued until Sept. 23. He was placed under bond of $200.

OPEN LUNCH ROOM AT HIGH SCHOOL; CUT NOON RECESS TO 45 MINUTES

Students Must Bolt Food in Hurry to Keep Up With New Schedule in Effect.

The high school lunch room was formally put in operation Tuesday. It is fully equipped to supply the wants of the students and teachers.

Prices for various articles for the first few days, owing to the lack of suitable tickets, will be five cents. This will later be reduced and prices will range from one, two, three or more cents. By this method a student should be able to purchase a substantial meal for at least 10 or 15 cents.

With the opening of the room the sixth period in the school program will be dropped, and the seventh period will follow the fifth. This will give everyone but 45 minutes for lunch. At the end of the lunch room facilities every student is expected to eat during one of his study periods.

The menu for Tuesday included noodle soup, beef, macaroni and cheese, mashed potatoes, glazed sweet potatoes, creamed cabbage, tomatoes, fruit, apple and raisin pie, ice cream and cake, tapioca pudding, tea, coffee, milk and bouillon.

WHEAT JUMPS TO $1.05; POTATOES DROP SLIGHTLY

"Spuds" Are Offered at 70 Cents a Bushel on Public Market—Vegetables Grow Scarcer.

Wheat jumped up five cents Tuesday morning, reaching $1.05 a bushel, the price offered by local buyers. During the past week the price has held steady to the dollar mark, although many of the farmers believed it was going to drop. The fact that the outlook for new crops of wheat was contemplated last week caused the holders to tighten on their sales, according to W. B. Starr of Knoblock & Ginz Milling Co. The sudden drop last week from $1.15 to $1 caused an uneasiness in the market and numbers of farmers were anxious to dispose of the wheat they have been holding since harvest.

POTATOES DROP SLIGHTLY

Potatoes dropped a few cents on the public market Tuesday, the price being 70 cents a bushel. Saturday the minimum was 80 cents. The fact that farmers were beginning to bring in their winters, it is said, is lowering the price. That St. Joseph county is due to have a bumper crop is the general opinion on the market and few are buying, believing that prices will fall next week. The fact that the amount of vegetable produce on the market for the first time began to get scarcer Tuesday. Prices remained low. The choicer produce has been disposed of by the farmers, although there is plenty remaining which will sell at a minimum price. Peaches were selling at $1.25 a bushel. There were approximately 75 teams on the market.

SAY DEFENDANTS WILL NOT GIVE THEM DEED

Alfonso Himschoot and Alice Himschoot filed suit in superior court Thursday to secure a deed from August and Leonie DeSaer for property which the plaintiffs allege they purchased from the defendants. It is stated in the complaint that an agreement was made on July 12, 1913, whereby the plaintiffs were to pay the defendants $600 on an $1,800 piece of property and $15 a month until the payments were completed. It is alleged that this was done until Aug. 12, 1914, when the lump sum of $750 was paid the defendants, which completed the $1,800. According to the plaintiffs the defendants refuse to execute a deed for the property and they ask that they be given this in order to have the proper claim on the land.
